

A GLOBAL LEARNING COMPANION

Learning goes further when everything travels together.

FieldScholar brings program information, field learning, communication, and safety into one mobile-first experience for students and faculty on experiential and international programs.

BEFORE DEPARTURE

IN THE FIELD

THROUGHOUT THE PROGRAM

01 / THE EXPERIENCE

ONE CONTINUOUS
EXPERIENCE

The experience is connected.
The tools usually aren't.

FieldScholar gives the program a shared digital home.

FS

Each tool can keep doing its job. Students get one coherent place to experience the program.

02 / FOUR DIMENSIONS

THE WHOLE PROGRAM,
HELD TOGETHER

Practical by design.
Academic at its core.

FieldScholar connects the dimensions that students and faculty experience as one program
—not four separate systems.

01

Program

The practical shape of each day.

USEFUL FROM THE FIRST TAP

The program in their pocket.

Today's plans, housing details, program contacts, resources, notes, and updates—organized around the experience students are actually having.

Offline-conscious

Important program information should remain accessible even when the field has imperfect connectivity.

A PRODUCT PRINCIPLE

Safety without surveillance.

Students need fast access to help and institutions need reliable ways to communicate during serious events. That does not require continuous location tracking.

No continuous location tracking.

PILOT CAPABILITY

I'm Safe

One tap begins a prefilled message to the program's primary faculty contact.

Student's chosen safety communication path

PLANNED INSTITUTIONAL CAPABILITY

STUDENT CONTROL STAYS VISIBLE IN EVERY SAFETY ACTION.

Institution → Program → Cohort → Appropriate recipients

05 / LEARNING IN THE FIELD

PLACE IS PART OF THE CURRICULUM

The field is part of the classroom.

FieldScholar gives students a structured place to observe, document, interpret, and reflect while experiences are still unfolding.

Geospatial work

Architecture supports future export and institutional integration possibilities.

More confidence for students. More clarity for the people responsible for them.

Give every international, cultural, service, or experiential program its own configured environment—simple for students, dependable for faculty, and privacy-conscious by design.

What FieldScholar is— and what it isn't.

FieldScholar is

- ↗ A global learning companion
- ↗ A configurable program layer
- ↗ A student-centered mobile experience
- ↗ A bridge between logistics, learning, communication, and safety

FieldScholar isn't

- × An LMS
- × A general-purpose chat platform
- × A travel agency system
- × A continuous student tracking system
- × A replacement for institutional emergency infrastructure

07 / ORIGIN

BUILT FROM THE PROGRAM OUTWARD

A product perspective grounded in the lived academic experience.

FieldScholar emerged from direct experience designing and leading international and experiential learning programs. Its development is informed by global learning, experiential pedagogy, digital humanities, student experience, faculty program leadership, and institutional travel realities.
